

Now that you and your child have read the story, enjoy one or more of the following activities. Remember, it's also OK to read the story again and again!

Corduroy

Written, illustrated, and copyrighted © 1968 by Don Freeman.
All rights reserved. Used by permission of Viking Penguin, Inc.
Produced under Chapter 1 of Title 17, section 121 of the U.S. Code (Copyright Act). Any further reproduction or distribution in a format other than a specialized format is an infringement of copyright.

Activities

- Lisa and Corduroy had a special friendship. Encourage your child to think of something nice to do for a special friend.
- Corduroy was sad because he had lost a button. Show your child how to check for missing buttons when sorting laundry and how to sew on buttons.
- Make a button greeting card. Collect buttons from around the house or select some to purchase with your child. Fold a piece of light cardboard in half and glue the buttons to the front of the card to make a picture. Details can be added with colored markers or by gluing additional things, such as colored yarn, to the card.

Read More About It!

If you and your child enjoyed this book, look for these related titles at your local library or bookstore: Lost! by David McPhail, A Perfect Nose for Ralph by Jane Breskin Zalben, Golden Bear by Ruth Young, My Brown Bear Barney by Dorothy Butler.

