

Just for Fun

Now that you and your child have read the story, enjoy one or more of the following activities. Remember, it's also OK to read the story again and again!

Passover

Written by David F. Marx.

Copyright © 2001 by Children's Press.

All rights reserved. Used with permission of Children's Press.

Produced under Chapter 1 of Title 17, section 121 of the U.S. Code (Copyright Act).

Any further reproduction or distribution in a format other than a specialized format is an infringement of copyright.

Activities

- Make a Passover Seder plate with your child. Cut out shapes or pictures of the items placed on a Seder plate (a bone; charoset--chopped nuts, apples, honey, and cinnamon; horseradish; an egg; and parsley). Paste the shapes or pictures onto a paper plate and label each item.
- Review the words from the "Words You Know" page, the next to last page in the book. Sign each word with your child or have her or him fingerspell the labels of each picture.
- Have your child make a Passover poster. She or he can cut out a picture from a magazine or draw a picture that will symbolize Passover, then paste it on a piece of construction paper. Help your child label the poster "Passover" and then put the dates of Passover or write "Happy Passover!" at the top of the poster.

Read More About It!

If you and your child enjoyed this book, look for these related titles at your local library or bookstore: Hooray! It's Passover! by Leslie Kimmelman, The Matzah Man: A Passover Story by Naomi Howland, Where is the Afikomen? by Judyth Saypol Groner & Madeline Wikler, and Company's Coming by Joan Holub.

