Activities

- Change the dancing fly into a dancing bumblebee and read the story again.
- The store keeper man did not want the fly to dance on the food in the store. Show your child ways you keep flies off of food, such as putting the food in covered containers or wrapping it with paper or plastic.
- This story takes place in a delicatessen. Visit a delicatessen, bakery, or other small food store with your child. Look for foods that are the same as what you usually buy and look for something different to purchase.
